United in Uniqueness

Life is a celebration of every individual becoming who they choose to become. It is a celebration of acceptance, a celebration of overcoming every obstacle in one's own journey, a celebration of a future together, a celebration of unity, a celebration of uniqueness, a celebration of victory with each other, rather than over each other.

The Stone Drops Collection

The use of jewellery in a handbag draws its inspiration from India's love affair with precious stones and metals as balancing elements, energy enhancers and representation of social status. The hand-cut precious stones that are set on the medallion-like jewels, follow the Hemachandra numeric pattern found in nature.

The Golden Trails

The heritage gold gilding artwork found in the palaces of India and the champa flowers found as trails in the forest is the inspiration behind this collection. These are the favorite flowers offered to the Gods in the temples.

The marriage of this exotic flower found in the forests, combined with the 24k gold gilding technique is the inspiration behind the artistry of the Golden Trails Collection. This collection is handcrafted using calf napa leather and lined with water-resistant leather. The hardware is of antique gold finish adding more richness to the gold gilding artwork.

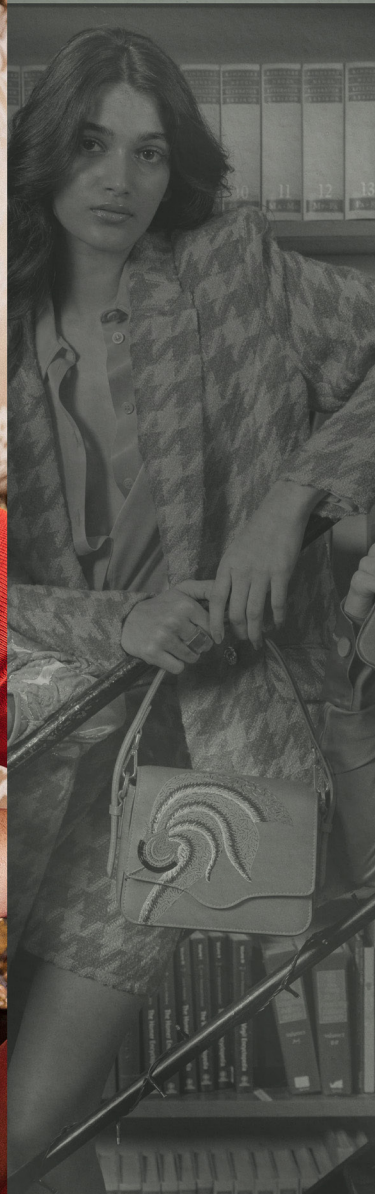

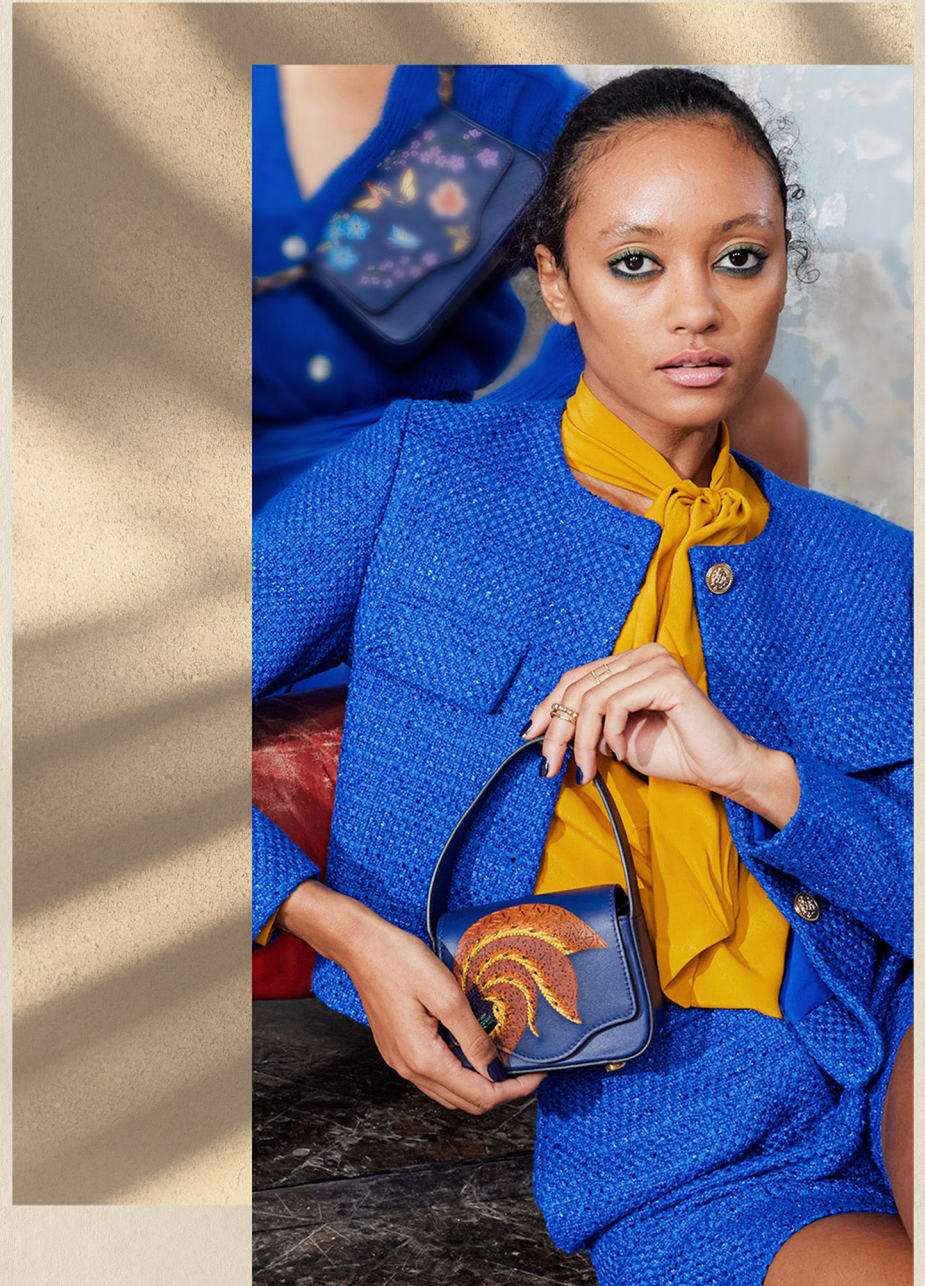

The Kesuda Collection

The Kesuda flower being the inspiration behind this collection doesn't just blossom - it explodes into bursts of mystic-colored petals covering entire trees in its wake. Celebrating the flower's exquisite, natural beauty, our embroiderers and painters create the Kesuda design using 7 different hand-embroidery techniques and more than 3000 hand-stitches with threads in different vibrant colours

The Classic Collection

Nature is a combination of simplicity and sophistication that inspires Aranyani to inject elegance and zest into the daily life of the modern woman. "The Classic Collection" is handcrafted using calf napa leather and lined with water-resistant leather. The hardware is of antique-gold finish including the exclusive 'O' ring, giving it a classic look.
